INTRODUCTION.

THE Vimāna-vatthu is a work that describes the splendour of the various celestial abodes belonging to the Dewas, who became their fortunate owners in accordance with the degree of merit they had each performed, and who there spent their time in supreme bliss.

These Vimānas are graphically described in this little work as column-supported palaces that could be moved at the will of their owner. A Dewa could visit the earth in these, and we read of their so descending on occasions when they were summoned by the Buddha.

The lives of the Dewas in these vimānas or palaces were limited, and depended on the merits resulting from their good acts. From all that we read of them we can well infer that these habitations were the centres of supreme felicity. It is doubtless with much forethought that peculiar stress is laid, in our work, on the description of these vimānas, in order to induce listeners to lead good and unblemished lives, to be pure in their acts, and to be zealous in the performance of their religious duties.

Stories from the Vimāna-vatthu are not unfrequently referred to in later doctrinal works, when a viruous career in life is illustrated. Thus Mattakuṇḍalī and Sirimā Vimāna are referred to in the Dhammapada Atthakathā; Citta, Guttila, and Rewati are quoted in the Sutta Sangaha.

This treatise is the sixth book in the Khuddaka Nikāya of the Sutta Piṭaka, and I cannot furnish my readers with a fuller or better description of it than that given in the Paramattha Dīpani, the Commentary * on this and three other books. I quote it verbatim.

TRANSLATION.

I ADORE the compassionate Buddha, who has crossed the ocean of knowledge, and is skilled in the abstruse and profound Dharma, with its varied significations.

I adore the Word, instrumental in liberating from worldly pleasures (beings) endowed with knowledge and conduct, and venerated by the Supreme Buddha.

I adore the righteous Priesthood, full of piety and other virtues, who exercise the paths and the fruitions, who are unrivalled (in virtue) and are fields of merit.

Having freed myself from all impediments through the influence of merit resulting from my obeisance in the above manner to the three Gems, I compose as well as I can, and in conformity with the opinions of the priesthood of the Mahā Vihāra,* who are absolutely pure, and are sanguine and subtle in their decisions, a commentary on a work recited in ancient times by the great sages as the Vimāna-vatthu of the Khuddaka-nikāya, abiding by the sense of the old commentary (that existed), though entering into details in certain places.* The Vimāna-vatthu is a catechetical treatise of the merits of Dewas, who were blessed with abodes in accordance with the good acts that they performed in previous births.

Vimānas are the abodes of pleasure of the gods, and are so called as they have sprung up in accordance with the merits resulting from the amount of good deeds performed by them. They are of one and two yojanas in extent, are brilliant with gems, and being of variegated colours and forms are really worth seeing.

They are called vimānas as their size is particularized.

Being a narrative of the vimānas the book is called Vimāna-vatthu, and it commences with pīthan te sovanna-mayam, &c.

This is a brief explanation of its contents. As the beauty, wealth, and retinue of the gods, and the good deeds of which they are the results, form the subject of this narrative, and it points out the effects of causes, and describes the vimānas that have sprung up in accordance with meritorious acts performed, it is called Vimāna-vatthu.

By whom was the Vimāna-vatthu propounded, where, when, and for what purpose? This Vimāna-vatthu consists of queries and replies. The replies were given by some of the dewas, some of the queries were put by the Lord Buddha, some by Sekra and others, and some by the Srāvaka-Theras.

The major part, however, of it was delivered by Mahā Moggallāna, who, for a period of one asankeyya and one hundred thousand kappas† in order to become one of the principal disciples of Buddha; and in due course having practised the perfections of a disciple, and acquiring the six supernatural faculties, and the four attainments peculiar to the highest order of the Arahats,* and having attained to the acme of knowledge necessary for a chief Srāvaka was selected as the second chief disciple of Buddha, who pronounced him as pre-eminent amongst those having supernatural powers.

* It is plain from the above that there existed an older Commentary which was enlarged upon by the author, evidently the Great Aṭṭhakathā referred to by Prof. Oldenberg. Vin. P. Intr. xli.

The expounder (Moggallāna) having first traversed the celestial abodes, and having inquired from the gods (to what particular merits they owe their births), descended to the world of men, and clearly described to them for their benefit by a series of questions and answers, the results of performing good deeds, submitted it to Buddha, and recited it to the priests.

The questions of Sekra and the replies of the gods given to him, have also been recited by Mahā Moggallāna.

The questions of Buddha, the Theras and the Dewas, and the replies given to them by the Dewas on the various occasions, were collected by the Great Theras at the Recension of the Dhamma and Vinaya, and was recited as the Vimāna-vatthu.

To the first query here “by whom was this recited, &c.?” the answer “by Moggallāna” is brief and general, as for a full account of him, his history from the time that he made his first resolve (to aspire to the second discipleship) at the feet of the Buddha Anōmadassi should be given. This history will be found in different places in the Commentaries of the religion, and may be gathered as narrated in them.†

To the query “where the stories were narrated, &c.?” the full answer is that they will be found in the description given of each celestial abode. Others ‡ say, one day Moggallāna who had privately retired for the purpose of meditation thought thus: At the present day, though beings offer ill-gotten wealth to irreligious priests, they have been born in the celestial worlds purely out of faith in the deeds they have performed and enjoy untold felicity.* I shall proceed to the celestial abodes, and get the gods to repeat the good works they have performed, and the merits they enjoy as their results, and will inform the fact to Buddha who will found thereon an excellent discourse, by which, as clearly as the full moon in the firmament, he will take each of the celestial abodes as examples, and will illustrate to beings the fruit of their actions, and the great benefits that would accrue by the performance of even trivial righteous acts with faith in their eventual good results. He thought that that discourse will be advantageous and beneficial to many, and will be conducive of happiness to gods and men.

Rising from his seat, and putting on a red-coloured double garment, and covering himself with a red-coloured double robe, leaving one shoulder bare, like the flash of a torrent of real vermillion, and like a moving blue mountain, where all that is good is concentrated, he approached Buddha, and bowing him respectfully, stood on a side, and declared to him his intention, and obtaining his permission, arose from his seat and circumambulating him, attained the four stages of mystic meditation based on the six transcendent faculties, and in a moment by supernatural power proceeded to the Tawtisā heavens, and inquired from the various celestial beings the merits that they had gained by their good works. They related them to him. From thence returning to the world of men, he informed all the particulars as he gathered them to Buddha, and he was glad.

Buddha based this information in an exhaustive discourse to his listeners.

Of the Vinaya, Sutta, and Abhidamma pitakas, this Vimāna-vatthu belongs to the Sutta Piṭaka, and of the Five Nikāyas, the Dīgha, Majjhima, Sanyutta, Aṅguttara and Khuddhaka, it belongs to the Khuddaka Nikāya.

Of the nine divisions of the Scriptures, the Sutta, Geyya, Veyyākaraṇa, Gāthā, Udāna, Itivuttaka, Jātaka, Abbhuta-dhamma, Vedalla it belongs to the Gāthā.

Of the eighty-four thousand sections of the Scriptures which remain, eighty-two thousand were delivered by Buddha, and two thousand by the priesthood. This work is included in several of the eighty-four thousand sections of the Scriptures, as is stated by the treasurer of the Dhamma (Ānanda).

It has seven vaggas or chapters.

Piṭṭha vagga, Cittalatā vagga, Pāricchattaka vagga, Manjīṭṭhaka vagga, Mahāratha vagga, Pāyāsi vagga, Sunikkhitta vagga.

When the other stories are taken into account there will be 123 stories. Of the chapters Piṭṭha vagga is the first, and of the stories Sovanṇapīṭhavatthu, of which the verse Piṭṭhan te sovanṇamayaṇ is the first.

This Commentary is called the “Paramattha Dipani.” It is a lucid exposition of the text, and explains at length some of its terms. It was composed by a Thera named Dhammapāla, evidently a member of the Mahā Wihāra sect, as he states in the Introduction that he composed it “agreeably to their views.” Though the date is not given, I think we may fairly infer from the style of the work that it was shortly after Buddhaghosa's compilations (A.D. 412). As usual, the author simply gives his name, but not the date of the work.

The Commentaries are indispensable for the elucidation of the text, and are held in high estimation as throwing light on much that would otherwise be unintelligible.*

There is also an exegesis in Sinhalese to the Vimānavatthu, composed by Ratnapāla Sthavira in A.D. 1769.

This was about the time that the priesthood versed in the Pāli was extinct, and that recourse was had to Sinhalese translations for preaching to and educating the people. About this time compilations such as the Saddhammālankāra, Ratanāwaliya and Pūjawaliya were made. The author gives a brief history of the circumstances which led him to translate the work and his pupilage, &c., as follows :—

Samgha rāja swāmin wahansēge sishya wū paṇḍita hru-dayā nanda karawū uposhathārāmayehi nāyaka dhurandha rayehi pihitā hirimandālaye dasadiga patala kirti sri eti Dharmarakshita sthavīrayan wahansēgē sishya wū—Mātula nam danaw wehi Asgiri kōraḷaya bada Wagguli lena samīpayehi wū Gammulla nam piyasa gruhapati wānsōt-bhūta wū—chandasa, vyākaraṇa, nighaṇḍu, gaṇitadi noyek sēstrayehi nipunawū—Ratnapāla sthavīrayan wahansē wisin—mahā rāja tuman wisin dena siwpassaya wa landamin Pushpārāma wihārayehi wasamin ṣardhā buddhi ṣampanna sāsanōdaya kāmī wū Galagedara Indajoti Terun wahansēgē ārādhanaṇa piḷigena, matu ena dawasa pāli artha peralā bana kīmehi asamarthawū ṣardhāwanta satpuruṣayanṭa weḍa piṇisa grantha eksiya pan sattēwak adhika koṭa eti aṭalos banawarakiṇhā sārādās sasiya pan seṭṭē wak granthayen hā ek laksha satalis nawa dās sasiyakak pamaṇa akshara samkhyā wak eti—me elu wimāna wastu prakaraṇaya, śrī suddha Saka rāja waru-shayen ekwā dahas sasiya de anū weni warshayehi dī koṭa nimawana laḍi.

This Singhalese version of the Wimāna Wastu consisting of over 175 verses, 18 bānawaras, 4,675 granthas, and 1,496,000 letters, was completed in the year of King Saka, 1692, by Ratnapāla Sthavira—proficient in Prosody, Grammar, Botany, Mathematics, and various other sciences—born of the Gahapati race in the village Gammulla, in the vicinity of Waggullena in the Asgiri Korale of the Mātula district, and pupil of the venerable Sangha rāja's pupil, Dhammarakkhita Sthavira, High Priest of the Uposatha Temple, whose virtues were resplendent in various parts as the rays of the sun, living at the Puspārāma Temple, and on the bounty of His Majesty, at the request of the faithful, wise, and zealous Thera Indajoti, of Galagedara, for the benefit of those religious and virtuous persons, unable to preach in Singhalese from Pāli.

There is hardly anything to be said as regards the style of the Vimāna Vatthu. Being a small treatise of questions and answers, it is in easy and intelligible language, which appears to be akin to the other text-books of the Khuddaka Nikāya.

I had to encounter great difficulties in securing a correct copy of the work. Not being a book that is often read or quoted, it had not undergone a recent revision, and the careless and perfunctory manner in which it had been handled by the copyists, who, as a rule, are ignorant of the language also, had altered the version so considerably, that but for the kind assistance that I derived from His Royal Highness, the Siamese Prince Bhānurangsi, who greatly obliged me by presenting me with a correct copy of the Text and Commentary in the Cambodian characters, I am doubtful whether I should have succeeded in editing this work. In the Ceylon copies several of the stories were omitted, the table of contents (udāna) at the end of each "vagga" was missing, and at the finale of each story the suffix "vaṇṇanā" was interpolated.

I am indebted to the undermentioned friends, who promptly secured me copies from the following temples :

I have abstained from pointing out in this edition the discrepancies in the above works, as I made the Siamese version the original on which I based the edition, and had to alter and amend it in only a very few places, so that such an illustration would have been unnecessary, and perhaps perplexing.

In conclusion, I have to acknowledge in high terms the valuable assistance and advice rendered me by my tutor, Kodagoḍa Paññāsekharā Thera, as well as by Ganācharya Wimalasāra Tissa Thera, and Hikkaduwe Sumangala Mahā Nāyaka, and my unfeigned thanks to the Honourable Arthur Gordon our Ruler, for the kind permission granted me to dedicate the work to His Excellency.
